

Prof. Dr.Dr.h.c Wernhard Möschel

curriculum vitae

Born 1941 in Regensburg. Study of law and economics in Muenster, Munich, Geneva and Muenster 1961 – 1965. Dr. iur. University of Muenster: 1967. Habilitation University of Bielefeld: 1972. From 1973 – 2009 Full Professor for Civil Law, Commercial Law and Economic Law, European Law and Comparative Law at the University of Tuebingen. Visiting Professor to the International Monetary Fund winter 1982/83 and winter 1987/88. Member of the German Monopolies Commission from 1989 – 2000, 1998 – 2000 as Chairman; member of the Scientific Advisory Board to the Federal Ministry of Economics since 1987, 1996 – 2000 as Vice Chairman, 2000 – 2004 as Chairman; 1984 - 2012 member of the “Kronberger Kreis” (Research Committee on Economics); from 1985 – 1987 member of the Governmental Commission on Telecommunications; member of the Chancellor’s Council for Research, Technology and Innovation from 1995 – 1996; member of the Commission of Inquiry for New Media of the German Parliament from 1996 – 1998; member of the Advisory Board to the German Institute for Japanese Studies/Tokyo 1996 – 2003, since 2000 as Chairman, Senator of the Leibnitz-Community 2002 – 2010. Received the Ludwig-Erhard-Award for Economic Journalism in 1995 and the Friedrich August von Hayek-Medal of the F. A. von Hayek Society in 2000, 2011 liber amicorum (Festschrift) Nomos-Verlag Baden-Baden. Dr.iur.h.c. 2012 (University of Athens). Since 1988 member of the Mont Pèlerin Society and since 1994 of the New York Academy of Sciences.